When the black rashes of the moonlit Eau hid his crat, the girl turned homeward on the path again. A tender smile was on her face, and she was dancing on the wavy veins. Her whole young being was alive and calling — calling — or she wondered what!

When the woodland trees met the girl with a wide sheet of moonlight lay shrouding the dead leaves. When she reached this spot she clasped her hands and raised them to the deep chaotic arch of the skies.

"Oh, boy," she said, smilingly "oh, boy." Then the long lashes hid her eyes and something splashed upon the dead sheeted leaves. "Oh God," groaned the girl, "take care of him; take care of Boy."

Far down in the dark swales a panther wailed and a loon sent its weird call from the marshlands. The feet of the drifting leaves, moon and path darkened. The girl quickened her pace into a run. As she rounded a curve in the path she gave a little cry.

Standing directly in the path was a man.

"Don't be afraid," he said, "it's only me."

"Coy?" she repeated. "Oh, yes, it's Mr. Simpson. I must hurry on."

He did not attempt to move aside, and the girl's head went back and her eyes closed.

"Please let me past," she said impishly.

Simpson laughed.

"In a good time. But I want to say something first. Won't you listen, Goss?"

"If it's what you said before, I don't want to hear it," she answered. "You — you mun't keep me here; it's dangerous — dangerous for you."

"For you," he laughed.

He came toward her, and she receded.

"You hold me once — in your arms," she snarled, "and against my will. You mun't hold me so again. If you do — I kill you."

"I'll take the chance," he said hotly.

She stood all silent while before him. He reached for her hands — then something, a new and strange helplessness, overpowered him, and he sank down on the moss.

"Mr. Simpson," she said quietly, "you must go for your own sake. You must go now."

"Goss, oh Goss!" he murmured brokenly, "how I love you, girl! You

Caused Disfigurement, Itchy and Burning, Had Restless Nights.

"My face came out in little pimples when we were, and I scratched them constantly, and then they became larger and larger, scales, causing much disfigurement. The skin was so tight it irritated it by scratching, and the skin became very sensitive, and I had many restless nights."

"This trouble lasted about a year before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after using three cakes of Soap and two boxes of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) W. BYRNE, El Paso, Tex.

Canada's New War Vessels

Will Undoubtedly Prove to be Nucleus of Canadian Navy.
"I am much pleased with the vessels which the British Government has given to Canada and consider that they should prove a very efficient nucleus for a Canadian navy," said Capt. Hose, R.C.N., acting director of naval service, to the Canadian Press. Capt. Hose has just returned from England where he went to take over the ships from the government, inspect them, and report to the ministry what changes were necessary before they would be ready for service in Canadian waters.

At present, the vessels are undergoing necessary repairs and re-fitting and the actual date of their sailing for Canada is uncertain. Capt. Hose said that the cruisers Aurora, and the two destroyers, Patriot and Pictorian, were all burners; which had given a very satisfactory account of themselves during the war. Although they were not engaged in any battles during the war, they were of the very highest type of their size in the English Channel. The majority of the officers, said Capt. Hose, would be Canadians, who had seen war service.

Stories of Indian Days.

O-gem-as Relates Many Incidents of Native Life in the West.
This paper has been very fortunate in making exclusive arrangements with Reg. Beatty, of Medicine Store, for a weekly article on Indian life. Mr. Beatty has lived for many years in the west, and is the best informed authority on Indian ways and traditions living in Western Canada today. Mr. Beatty writes under the pen name of "O-gem-as," meaning in Cree, "little Clerk." These articles should prove to be a valuable contribution to our knowledge of a race that is gradually disappearing. The first story appears on another page of this issue.

Stuffy Head Cleared
Of Catarrah Germs
By "Catarhnoze"

To catarrah victims who just one word of advice—cure it now. That is all I can say. You can't afford to let it go on—permanently you can't doubt. Catarhnoze has cured thousands; it will cure you, too.

It acts in two ways: First, it destroys the germs that cause catarrah; second, it cures the disease. Its second action is to heal the sore places the germs caused. Nice to think of breathing little drops of healing to the part of the nose that causes the absolute nasal passages. It is such absolute thoroughness that makes Catarhnoze so effective—in grippe, catarrh and colds. They act on the surface; it clears away the cough and throat tenderness very quickly. We owe something to a scientist who gave us this knowledge. Catarhnoze, which so surely enabled us to permanently cure disease of the breathing apparatus, was an opinion expressed at the agricultural conference in Winnipeg.

"The question of marketing farm produce was discussed at length. It was pointed out that while the marketing of grain, wool and dairy products has been organized with a substantial measure of success, this is not true of such produce as poultry and potatoes."

"The Alberta system of marketing eggs, which was instituted by the Department of Agriculture of that province two or three years ago, was explained by H. A. Craig, deputy minister of agriculture, who expressed himself as well satisfied with the administration of the act up to the present time.

R. J. C. Stead in England

Receives a Very Kind Notice From Prominent London Paper.

R. J. C. Stead, who is now on a visit to London, England, in connection with an emigration scheme, receives a very kind notice from that delightful journal, "London Opinion." This paper, by the way, only devotes itself to the great and the near great, so it is evident that the former Calgarian stands in a high class. In mentioning the visit of Mr. Stead, the writer says: "An honest, decent, sensible, and his government evidently considers that the man who can attract thousands to his books ought to be able to attract them to his country. He has been taken round to see London by night, and owing to some disappointment in finding it quite safe and orderly."—Calgary Herald.

Prince Impressed With Tour

Remarks on Ties of Sentiment Binding the Different Parts of Empire.

Speaking on landing in England from the battle cruiser, Renown, the Prince of Wales said: "I have visited two great self-governing dominions and British colonies. British institutions are not in the same state of development in all these British lands, but everywhere, without exception, the spirit is the same. I return most deeply touched and impressed by the unity and strength of sentiment which binds all parts of the dominions to the crown. This makes the future of the British Empire secure, to firm and clear is this devotion to this ideal and to the King. I am looking forward now to great developments in those dominions, and with these developments, restoration of our credits in the world's markets."

Co-operative Marketing

Western Farmers Considering Question of Furthering This Scheme.

That the application of the California system of co-operative marketing for vegetables and other produce to the marketing of poultry and such products as bacon in prairie provinces, would solve many of the difficulties now experienced by the farmers, was an opinion expressed at the agricultural conference in Winnipeg.

"The question of marketing farm produce was discussed at length. It was pointed out that while the marketing of grain, wool and dairy products has been organized with a substantial measure of success, this is not true of such produce as poultry and potatoes."

RHEUMATIC PEOPLE

Only Ease Relief By Enriching the Blood.

Rheumatism is a disorder of the blood. It attacks people when the blood is too thin, too acid, and immature, thus stopping up the circulation in the muscles and joints. Wet weather or cold weather may start the tortures of rheumatism, but the real cause of the disease is in the blood and the blood only. Victims of this malady have every reason to fear the first dull ache in the limbs and joints, followed by sharp pains in the flesh and sinews. These are the symptoms of poison in the blood, which will shortly leave the victim pained and helpless.

There is only one way to provide for the removal of this poison in the blood. Liniments, hot applications, and rubbing may give temporary ease, but cannot possibly root the trouble out of the system. That can only be done by the diet.

Dr. William's Pink Pills make this new blood to drive out the poisonous acids and impurities, and the rheumatic disorders. If you are suffering from the pain of rheumatism begin the use of Dr. William's Pink Pills and see how soon the pains and stiffness of the joints fade away, leaving behind new energy and new health.

You can get Dr. William's Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, from the Dr. William's Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Ready-made Medicine.—You need no physician for ordinary ills when you have at hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Liniment. For colds, colds, sore throats, bronchial troubles, it is invaluable, for fevers, burns, bruises, sprains it is unsurpassed, while for cuts, sores, ulcers, insect bites, it is a most valuable healer. It needs no testimonial other than the use, and that will satisfy anyone as to its effectiveness.

Germans Cannot Deliver.

The Argentina Government was not satisfied by a German shipyard contract at Emden, which prior to the war undertook the construction of a 40,000-ton floating dock for Argentina at a cost of $300,000, that the dock was completed, but the shipyard was unable to fulfill its contract to tow it to Buenos Aires because of lack of shipping facilities. Unless the Argentine Government is willing to provide for the shipyard says it will be obliged to retain the dock and refund half the cost which Argentina paid on account.

"Nothing But The Truth"

A farce comedy in three acts is the play which the high school kiddies are presenting as their annual play, next Thursday night at the opera house. The cast will include George Kadofsky, "Angie" (Miss Gladys Baime), Bertie (Miss Jack) and Eddie (Miss Marion) Evans, Marguerite Tigray, Henrietta Robbins, Sarah MacIntyre and Gwen McDonald. Vanderville will be presented in acts by other members of the high school.

Miss Gladys Baime and Miss Springer selected "Nothing But The Truth" as the play for the high school kiddies because it is especially adapted for an amateur production, and because it is one of the funniest and brightest farce-reviews written. The idea is so novel, and so well handled, it has been worked out that an audience is kept in thrills of laughter in the opening scenes and suspenseful tension throughout the play. The play will be presented in Blairmore, Coleman, Michel, Bellevue and Pincher Creek. A dance will be held after the performance in Blairmore next Thursday night. Music will be furnished by the Blairmore orchestra. Tickets will be one dollar, kiddies fifty cents and dance fifty cents.

The next service will be held in this church on the third Sunday in November at 7:30 p.m. Everybody cordially invited to come.

The social afternoon given under the auspices of the Women's Institute and the West Wind Club, in honor of Mrs. Hargrove, was a decided success. A pleasing programme was rendered, after which a dainty and delicious lunch was served, which was prepared by the members. The West Wind Club presented Mrs. Hargrove with a beautiful piece of silverware. Mrs. Hargrove has been a faithful member of the Institute for several years, and her presence will be greatly missed.

INDIAN WITCHCRAFT

The strange experience of O-ge-mases when Wus-ke-nings, an Indian sorceress, casts her evil spell.

By O-GE-MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyrighted)

In the early seventies, being in charge of a Hudson's Bay Post on Lake Manitoba, where poisoning by natives' Indian medicines was prevalent, evidence was brought before myself and the local magistrate, making a serious charge against an old woman named Wus-ke-nings who it was claimed, had given poison to one of the tribe whereby he was in danger of losing his life and at that time was living in a semi-paralyzed condition. We considered the evidence justified us in laying the matter before the forest-magistrate, some 60 miles distant, and, if possible, procuring a warrant for her arrest. It was decided that I should go with the papers. "The time was dead of winter and the lake was frozen solidly from shore to shore.

I finally decided to start along the next evening and being the fortunate possessor of a splendid train of dogs looked forward to the trip with enjoyment. My dog train, consisting of four, deserves some description. Part Esquimese, part wolf, bound, tall, clean limbed animals, their usual gait was some six miles per hour, but if pressed they could easily outrun a horse. Once having passed over a route, the foregoer never swerved from a direct course whether a trail showed or not. Herod, Nero, Hero and Moro were their names and I loved them with a great love. Kindly natured and devoted to me, still they would attack anything I wished and were as courageous as lions. Often when viewing a wolf or fox on the ice I would let them out of their harness and if far enough from shore they would catch it and kill it before I could reach them. My cariole was, as usual, made from a birch toboggan with buffalo parchment sides and back, lined with fur, on its head a tripod with silver bells. On the collars of each dog were also tripods with bells, and Indian saddle saddle cloths made a very handsome outfit.

Amongst the hangers-on around the Post was a half-breed named James Sinclair who, speaking both English and Cree fluently, was often employed by me as interpreter, my knowledge of the native language being at that time limited. Calling at the office before my departure he appeared to be uneasy in his mind and on my questioning him as to the trouble, he replied by question: "Is it true, O-ge-mases (little clerk), that you are taking in law papers about that Indian which?" When I replied in the affirmative, he begged me not to go or, if I would, then to take a companion. After some further questioning the truth came out, he stating this woman was in league with bad spirits and that an evil influence would be sent with me or after me if I insisted on going. I naturally made light of this and, in fact, before starting out, had quite forgotten the matter. Evening came on and about 7.30 I whistled for my dogs which were trained to come to their places, hitched up and away we went. For some miles the trail ran through woods and then came the open lake, wind swept and some twenty-five miles of a traverse to a point called the Bluff. While I lay back in my cariole, comfortably wrapped in furs, the miles slipped by until I was about half way across. By this time a few fleecy clouds had come up, but the moon, stars and the northern lights made the sky still very light. A feeling suddenly came over me that I was no longer alone. Loth to disturb my comfortable position, I lay still for a few minutes until the feeling of a presence became stronger and on sitting up in my cariole I saw to the left of the foremost dog about three feet above the ice, ball of phosphorescent light dancing along and keeping pace with the dogs, not more than thirty feet from me. This kept changing in size. At times as large as a football and at others not

After attending to some other business I returned to my post and found that my Indian companion had fled to parts unknown. That same evening James Sinclair called and explained my safe return from what he evidently considered a dangerous mission. He finally asked: "Did you have a good trip?" On my replying "Yes," he said: "Did you see anything?" and like a flash the thought of the mysterious light came to my mind. I then remembered his former prophecy and told him the facts. He did not appear at all surprised; the light, he stated, was an evil spirit sent by Wus-ke-nings which, if you had followed, nothing more would have been heard of you.

Thinking it all over since Sinclair's departure, his first warning before I started, to the effect that some evil thing would be sent after me; again the extraordinary conduct of my usually fearless dogs and the uncanny appearance of the light which could not have arisen from the same cause as an "Inuit Falaf" for there was from three to four feet of solid ice and a foot of snow all over the lake, made it one of the most uncanny experiences of my long residence in Northwest Canada.

I may add the old woman was not afraid of again and we burnt her bark tree with many medicine bags to the great satisfaction of all concerned. The poisoned Indian gradually recovered but never regained his former strength.

Drumeller Situation Improving.

Calgary, Alta.—Nine hundred out of 1,300 miners in the Drumeller Valley are working and there are only four mines in district 18, of U.M.W.A. which are not in operation. Men are drifting back to work and the situation is steadily improving.

Nourishment for MacSwiney.

London.—The Evening News says it "understands" that Mayor Lord MacSwiney's "remarkable diet" of practically indiscriminate killing of Haitian natives by United States marines was brought to the attention of Col. John Hunsell, commanding the marine forces in Haiti, in a confidential letter written by Maj.-Gen. George Barnett, commandant of the corps, in October, 1919, calling for a thorough investigation of conditions.

Charge Against U.S. Marines.

Washington.—Evidence of practically indiscriminate killing of Haitian natives by United States marines was brought to the attention of Col. John Hunsell, commanding the marine forces in Haiti, in a confidential letter written by Maj.-Gen. George Barnett, commandant of the corps, in October, 1919, calling for a thorough investigation of conditions.

Armenians Declare War.

Constantinople.—Newspaper reports received from Batum say the Armenian republic has declared war against the Turkish Nationalists and have secured a guarantee of the neutrality of the Georgian Government. He may easily last another month.

Will Not Tolerate Independent Ireland

Well-Being of Empire Depends on Unity of Islands.

Belfast.—In the course of a speech on the Irish problem here, Sir Edward Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, said: "The Government will not be defeated in its course by promises of better measures or other measures. It follows therefore that we will not tolerate an independent Ireland, part of Ireland being independent. We believe in the imperial and straitened unity of these islands. We believe that this unity is fundamental for the well-being of the whole empire."

"The real bar to peace in Ireland and the immediate passing of a bill that would enable Irishmen to govern their affairs is the campaign of deliberate and callous murder and arson and intimidation in certain parts of Ireland. No civilized government could tolerate that, and I can assure all those that would continue these situations, that it costs the Government in men, money and time, more than they realize, but the Government will go forward unfinchingly regardless of the cost. We are breaking the terror. In certain counties the boycott has ceased, and it will cease everywhere. The Government of Ireland bill dealt with a great reality, namely, that Ireland, historically and in many other ways, is divided into two main parts. This is to be regretted, but is still a fact. I am not one of those who believe that the setting up of two parliaments in Ireland carries with it any of those disabilities and awful consequences that people, who know nothing about home rule are constantly prophesying."

The secretary cited Canada and Australia as examples where self-government started with a number of small parliaments. "We are faced today," he continued, "not so much with the Sinn Fein movement as with the finer elements of that movement, an army of soldiers who believe they can intimidate the Irish Government and the British Government and get the support of the civilized world for a policy of assassination."

The secretary contended that no civilized government in the world would sympathize with that policy, and declared that no threats and no dangers would stop the British Government from going on with the enforcement of the law in Ireland.

Denunciation of the Government's Irish policy by the Liberal forces of the country, represented by the recent statements of Viscount Grey, former-Premier Asquith and Viscount Morley, seems likely to grow into a formidable movement. The latest recruit is Lord Robert Cecil, one of the most respected of the Unionist leaders, who joins Viscount Grey in a letter to the press calling for an investigation by the legislative tribunal regarding the Irish issues.

Canadian Sues Kansas Town

Mobbed When He Upheld Right of Free Speech.

Topeka, Kas.—H. A. Dykstra, of Topeka, a Canadian citizen, has filed suit in federal court to collect $15,000 damage from Hudson, Stafford County, alleging he was seized by a mob, beaten and ushered out of town. He said he told a crowd at Hudson that he was for "the right of assembly, free speech and a free press." Whereupon the mob beat, bruised and kicked him and sent him out of town.

Prospects for Cheap Sugar.

Toronto.—One hundred and twenty-five carloads of number one granulated sugar, enough to supply the entire city of Toronto for some time, was offered to a local candy-manufacturing concern at 16 cents a pound, Toronto, and was refused. It was stated here that the state of the sugar market in Canada is more shaky than for many years. In some of the states in Toronto sugar is being sold at 18-12 cents a pound.

Payment Refused to British Subjects in U.S.

Washington.—British subjects who travelled at their own cost from the United States during the war with Germany are entitled to receive refunds on their passage money, according to notice received by the British Embassy.

A dispatch similar to the one above was sent out by the Ottawa Bureau of the Canadian Press some time ago. It set the time limit for claims as before December 31 next.

Agged Author Weds.

Tours, France, Oct. 12.—Anatole France, 76 years of age, the noted French author, was married yesterday.

Message from the King

His Majesty is Grateful for Reception Given the Prince of Wales.

London.—The King has sent the following telegram to governors of Dominions and States visited by the Prince of Wales on his recent Australasian tour.

"On the return home of the Prince of Wales I ask you to express to the people of the Dominions and colonies he visited, my heartfelt appreciation of the universal affection and loyal enthusiasm evinced towards him throughout his travels. These warm hearted and spontaneous manifestations of regard for our eldest son have deeply touched the Queen and myself."

"We have followed with pride and admiration the triumphant success of his mission and all the more so when we recognized that these happy results are chiefly due to his own personal charm, to the buoyant and jovial spirit in which he has played his part, to his sense of duty and to the unstinting manner in which he has given of his best."

"This and his previous tour have given him special opportunity to gain knowledge of our overseas Dominions and colonies and to become personally acquainted with their people."

"May such intercourse create fresh feelings of confidence and devotion between the throne and the generations present and future of these great lands and thus promote the unity, strength and prosperity of the empire."

"To my son this wide and happy experience will ever be a priceless possession."

Board of Commerce Places Sugar Price And Prohibits Imports

Drastic Measures to be Taken With Ireland

London.—Leaders of the Sinn Fein movement in Ireland say they regard the speech made at Carnarvon by Premier Lloyd George as "almost a declaration of war on Ireland," says the Dublin correspondent of the London Times.

"There are many signs that the executive department in Dublin intends to bring things to a head as soon as possible by a concentrated campaign against disorder which, by inflicting general hardships on the country, may make crime and lawlessness truly unpopular."

Projected measures are said to include complete stoppage of the Irish railways, drastic reduction of the postal service until all railway workers agree to return to duty and until this is cessation of raids on the mails.

"Exchange telegram reports that the wives of British officers who are serving with their regiments in Ireland have been directed to proceed to their homes in Great Britain."

"It was stated at the War Office that this order had not been issued on this side. It has, therefore, emanated from the Irish command."

The order places the troops in Ireland on absolute active service conditions. It has created a sensation in the country, because the only recent equivalent was the order for women and children to be removed from Mesopotamia.

Belfast Feeling

Effect of Boycott

Wholesale Houses Disturbed Over Loss of Business.

Belfast.—Belfast business men are fearing acutely the effect of the recent rioting in the city and neighborhood. The local banks are not only refusing fresh overdrafts, but are insisting upon existing overdrafts being met. The result is an abnormal tightness of money. To make matters worse, many English firms are now insisting upon cash payment for further consignments to Belfast, even with Belfast houses of the highest standing, and in cases where the connection has lasted for many years.

It is significant that during the past few weeks the recently established Belfast branch of a South of Ireland bank has had to double its staff owing to new business.

"Although they are pretending not to be the least concerned, there is no doubt about the fact that the wholesale Belfast houses are seriously disturbed about the boycott by the Nationalist shopkeepers of the south and west. One commercial traveller of long experience has placed the loss in orders to Belfast during the past six weeks at $850,000, which works out at $6,000,000 per year. Even that estimate he considered was a conservative one."

Bandits Rob Bank

Make Easy Getaway Because Constable Was Afraid to Interfere.

Winkler, Man.—Failure of the local constable at Winkler to carry out his sworn duty for protection of life and property resulted in five bandits robbing the Union Bank of Canada here, and making their get-away with $19,000. George Hibert, the constable, had knowledge that the robbery was progressing, and made no necessary move, and although he had a shotgun and revolver in the house, he made no effort to stop the burglary, it is stated.

Hibert declared the reason he did not go out to arrest the men was because his wife wanted him to stay in the house with her. Local residents urged him to go to the scene of the robbery, but he refused. He admitted that he was afraid. Provincial and state police have a network throughout Canada and the United States. The robbers had made their get-away one hour before the general alarm was given, and it was not until 11.30 the next morning that the police met was spread. No one could furnish a description of the culprits.

Attempt to Assassinate Serbian Prince.

Brussels.—An attempt was made to assassinate Prince Regent Alexander of Serbia during his recent tour in Bosnia, according to the Montenegrin press bureau. The bureau adds: "A bomb was thrown under the train in which the Prince Regent of Serbia was returning from Sarajevo. Two coaches were wrecked but the Prince was unhurt.... An inquiry into the incident gave no results. The mayor and municipal council of Sarajevo have resigned."

Russians Plan Attack.

Warsaw.—The Russians are concentrating along the southern front for the purpose of attacking the Ukrainians as soon as the armistice with Poland is signed. It was declared in a Polish statement on military affairs. Reports from various sources are to the effect that Kiev was evacuated several days ago by the Bolsheviks under the pressure of the Ukrainian insurgents, who have occupied the city.

Much Unemployment in B.C. Vancouver—Sounding a warning note to those contemplating coming to British Columbia that there will be little opportunity for employment, Col. A. B. Powley, general superintendent of the Provincial Labor Bureau, states in an interview that there were hundreds of laboring men at present in British Columbia without employment.

A doctor and a school principal were out chicken-hunting on Thanksgiving Day. That they were amateur sportsmen may be judged from the fact that the day was spent on a raft on the crest of a large lake south of Pincher Creek. They secured one shot and the lonely chicken proved to be a mud hen.

At the request of the Next-of Kin Association of the City of Edmonton, the Alberta Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society has taken over the children's home in the Northern City, which was conducted and has hitherto been conducted by the association in the Northern City. The institution is similar in character to the Children's Home at Brickburn, near Calgary, which the Red Cross took over from the Great War Veterans' Association some months ago.

Mrs. Evans, Chairman of the Management Committee of the Home, will continue in that office. About forty children are now in residence at the Home.

The home has been admirably conducted from its foundation. As the function of the Next-of Kin Association is gradually drawing to an end, its members decided that the Home should be placed under the Red Cross Society which is a permanent institution now embarking upon an aggressive peace policy.

Members of the Association will co-operate with the Red Cross in the management of the Home.

"Sho. Coulndin't Marry Threet" was given a rousing reception on the occasion of its first public appearance at the opera house on Tuesday night of this week, and everyone was more than pleased with every actor and item on the three-hour program. One of the most pleasing features was the fact of the manifestation of interest on the part of citizens in general in the efforts being put forward by the young people to stage entertainments worth while. Each character in his or her role displayed commendable ability and won admiration, and what worried us most was that we were not guests at the hotel "Somewhere in Blairmore." The play is to be repeated at Bellview and Pincher Creek, and the net proceeds will go to the St. Anne's church building fund, Blairmore.
